

Islington Greener Together Champions

Well Done and Thank you!

Thank you so much to those who joined our Cheers for Champions last Monday 24th March. What an inspiring group of green and community-minded humans we are lucky enough to work with!

We had many useful conversations about your projects and learnt so much from you. Your insight was invaluable and constructive; you have provided the team with lots of food for thought...

Hopefully Saira's "Know your Neighbuzz" caught your imagination to get involved with Wilder Streets! See below; it starts tomorrow! ❤️

Wilder Streets

Last Monday you were introduced to Wilder Streets Community Science; a task force dedicated to the analysis of the new highways 'green' sites. We are delighted to see that some of you have signed up already!

By being part of this initiative you will be recording the impact of the impact and biodiversity of the new Islington Greener Together highways sites built in 2023-2024.

If you haven't yet signed up, please register for the online or in-person introductory sessions below.

It would be brilliant if a representative from every completed Greener Together Highways space would get involved, alongside anyone who can help out with auditing sites with no current Champions. You will also get a free kit to help you with your audits!

In-person: Tomorrow Wednesday 2nd April, 1:30pm - 4:30pm at the Islington Ecology Centre

Online: Tuesday 8th April, 6pm - 7:45pm on Zoom

Carbon Literacy Course

As part of Wilder Streets, you can also obtain certification in our Carbon Literacy Training; an awareness of the Carbon Dioxide impacts of everyday activities, and the ability and motivation to reduce emissions on an individual, community and organisational basis.

Our course covers:

- The science behind climate change
- Social equity and climate change
- What you can do to act on climate change
- Strategies and skills for communicating action on climate change
