What are Groundwork's Green Community Hubs?

Groundwork's Green Community Hubs offer familiar, accessible places, often located in areas with multiple deprivation, where local residents can engage in practical environmental action, such as food growing, building relationships and developing skills.

Many Green Community Hubs also provide access to other services, such as veg boxes, community fridges or food banks.

Green Community Hubs provide opportunities to experience well-being benefits associated with being outdoors, getting to know people in your local community, tackling loneliness and isolation and maintaining green space.

What impact does your support make for Groundwork's Green Community Hubs?

£25 can purchase seeds and compost for volunteers to get to work in a green space

£50 can purchase trowels and spades to run a gardening session

£250 would run a one-day training session to upskill ten local people in need

£1,500 could help setup a veg box/community fridge for a local community in need

QUIZ PACK

Let the fun commence! Support Groundwork's Green Community Hubs by hosting your very own nature quiz.

Your easy-to-use quiz pack contains:

- Five rounds of questions based on all things nature, including culture and general knowledge, two picture rounds and a music lyrics round
- Answer sheets
- Information on how to set your quiz up and how to pay your fundraising in
- Hints and tips to help you raise as much as possible!

QUIZ TOP TIPS

1. Decide where to host your quiz

Hold your quiz at work, on the go, or from the comfort of your own home! If you choose to hold it at work, be sure to reserve a meeting room or another suitable space. You could also ask to take over your local pub's weekly quiz for a fundraising event, or host it online, with individuals competing solo or teams collaborating via messaging apps.

2. Pick a host!

If you don't fancy hosting the quiz yourself then ask a charismatic colleague or friend to help out. As long as they are happy asking the questions and engaging with a crowd you'll have a great time! A note for the host: page 12 onwards contains answers, so please do not share with any quiz teams!

3. Find the most suitable time

Try not to organise the quiz for a time when some of your colleagues have a monthly meeting, instead opt for a more sociable time to maximise attendance. The best time to hold it could be a lunch hour or one evening after work. You could even combine it with lunch or dinner and order in some pizzas!

4. Raise as much as you can!

- Make sure you have a prize for the winners to encourage as many people as possible to join the quiz. A nice box of chocolates, some gardening gifts, or a donation from a local business would go down a treat!
- Charge individuals £2 each to enter the quiz or £10 for a team of five.
- Place collection tins in the room to collect additional donations. Don't forget to get in touch with us in advance on fundraising@groundwork.org.uk if you need collection tins, posters, or anything else to help with your event!
- Set up a JustGiving page and share the URL with your quizzers to enable online payments.

The most important thing is that you have fun! Have a great time testing your nature knowledge with your colleagues whilst raising funds for an important cause.

How to pay in your donations

Once your quiz is over, you can pay offline funds in via Groundwork's online donation form or get in touch with the fundraising team on fundraising@groundwork.org.uk.

Don't forget to say a huge thank you to everyone who came and helped to raise funds for Groundwork! Let all your quizzers know the total raised and the impact this makes.

Q4. Which author wrote Black Beauty (1877)?

A4. Anna Sewell

Q5. What song did Katy Perry sing during her brief flight to space in April 2025?

A5. What a Wonderful World!

Q6. How old is David Attenborough as of 8 May 2025?

A6. 99 years old

Q7. What is the largest and heaviest amphibian in the UK?

A7. Common frog

Q8. Which historic residence in England is home to 325 wild-plant species, 20 species of breeding birds, and over 1,000 trees, including 98 plane trees and 85 different species of oak?

A8. Buckingham Palace

Q9. Which ocean is the planet's largest water mass?

A9. Pacific Ocean

Q10. Name the iconic landmark and internationally famed tree that was illegally felled in 2023.

A10. Sycamore Gap

ROUND 3: TRUE OR FALSE?

Q1. Snakes often suffer from hiccupping.

A1. False - they don't have a diaphragm so they can't.

Q2. The number of pizzly bears (a grizzly and a polar bear breed) are decreasing.

A2. False! With the changing climate and warming temperatures, polar bears are moving south in search of food, and grizzly bears are moving north in search of cooler climes - bringing the species into closer contact.

Q3. Crickets have ears on their legs.

A3. True! The placement of the ears on the legs, coupled with internal tubing, allows crickets to hear a sound twice and determine the direction it's coming from.

Q4. The UK's largest lake by surface area is in Scotland.

A4. False – it is Lough Neagh in Northern Ireland. Loch Ness in Scotland is largest by volume however, and contains nearly double the amount of water in all the lakes of England and Wales combined!

Q5. A strawberry isn't a berry.

A5. True – from a botanical perspective, it's classed as an aggregate fruit due to the way it develops. And a banana is classed as a berry! Bonkers.

Q6. It takes around 450 mature trees to offset the annual emissions of one person.

A6. True! In very round numbers, a typical mature tree can absorb around 22kg carbon dioxide per year. The carbon footprint of a typical person in the UK is around 10 tonnes of carbon dioxide every year.

Q7. Both female and male seahorses can give birth.

A7. False. It is actually only the male seahorse who can get pregnant and who gives birth! Surprise!

Q8. Honey from rhododendrons is poisonous.

A8. True - a phenomenon known as 'mad honey' is found in honey from rhododendrons and azaleas, which can be toxic to humans if ingested!

Q9. Bats are extremely blind.

A9. False - the saying blind as a bat is misleading. Although they use echolocation (sonar in ears) to navigate, they also have eyes that are heavily loaded with photoreceptor cells called rods, which maximise their ability to see in the dark.

Q10. Snow in Alpine regions can be pink.

A10. True - this is known as watermelon snow, due to pigments produced by algae.

ROUND 4: UK COMMON INSECT IDENTIFICATION

A1. Moth

A2. Butterfly

A3. Shield bug

A4. Beetle

A5. Bumblebee

A6. Damselfly

A7. Grasshopper

A8. Hoverfly
