

Are you a voluntary, community or faith-based group that would like to help your community prepare for times of an emergency?

Interested in how to support your community in times of an emergency?

London Resilient Communities is a new programme designed to support voluntary, community and faith-based groups prepare for emergencies and crises

- Sign-up to the London Resilient Communities programme now!
- Register for our online launch event on Thursday 25th September for voluntary and community sector groups to find out more

